TOP TEN PROCUREMENT MISCONCEPTIONS

Common misconceptions drive procurement behaviors which often result in overpaying suppliers.

Suppliers give similar pricing to similar clients and customers.

Group purchasing will always get you the lowest costs.

Supplier loyalty translates to best pricing and service.

More volume always gets you a better deal.

Getting three bids will get you to the best price.

Lower price means lower quality and service.

Lowest price is the same as lowest cost.

Your strategy and expertise in purchasing in one cost category will produce similar results in another.

You are asking the right questions in your RFPs.

National pricing agreements are always better than local or regional agreements with the same supplier.

Is your organization limited by some of these beliefs?

THE PATH TO EXCELLENCE

1 Develop a strategy and a plan.

2 Analyze and validate your actual purchasing history to the lowest level possible.

3 Understand your qualitative requirements for each cost category.

4 Understand the assumptions and processes that drive your requirements.

5 Understand your suppliers and their industries like your own.

6 Re-evaluate current supplier relationships with these new insights.

RESULT
Cash out (leak) becomes cash in.

10 Embed a real expense control mindset into the company culture.

9 Decide, implement, monitor.

8 Negotiate more effectively.

7 Go to market better: right timing, right questions.

These best practices will recover significant cash flow to put back into your business.
